Looking after someone at home

A practical guide for carers: getting support, moving safely, falls, medicines and an emergency plan, with local help in Oxfordshire

For adults who look after a partner, relative, friend or neighbour who is ill, older or disabled. This edition adds a list of local help in Oxfordshire.

Their own care plan comes first. If the person you look after has advice from a hospital, GP, physiotherapist or care team, follow that. This guide is general information. It is not a care plan.

Help for you as a carer

- You can ask for a carer's assessment. It is free. Contact adult social services at your local council.
- It looks at how caring affects you: your health, work, free time and relationships. You can ask for it at the same time as the assessment for the person you look after.
- Help that may follow includes breaks from caring, training in moving and handling, local support groups and advice on benefits.
- If you care for someone for at least 35 hours a week, you may be able to get Carer's Allowance. The person you look after must get certain benefits. Check on GOV.UK. In Scotland it is called Carer Support Payment.

- Breaks help stop you becoming worn out. Options include a sitting service, where a trained volunteer keeps the person company for a few hours, a day centre, or a short stay in a care home. The council only pays for a break when it has assessed that one is needed.
- Our free guide to your rights as a carer covers the assessment, money help and your rights at work: mobilephysiotherapist.co.uk/carers-rights/oxfordshire.

Moving and helping them safely

Helping someone stand, walk, or get in and out of bed can hurt you both if it is done the wrong way. Back injuries are the most common injury for carers.

- If you help someone move often, get training, or ask a health professional to show you how.
- Ask the council for an occupational therapy assessment. It can show you the right way to help, and what equipment would make it safer.
- The council may provide equipment free, such as a hoist, stand aid, transfer board or slide sheet.
- Do not buy lifting equipment until an occupational therapist, physiotherapist or social worker has advised you. Try equipment before you buy it.
- Your council may run free moving and handling courses.

Helping to prevent falls

- Keep floors clear of clutter, loose wires and rugs.
- Use a non-slip mat in the bath or shower.
- Encourage regular eye tests and hearing checks. Ear problems can affect balance.

- If you think a medicine is affecting their balance, speak to their GP or pharmacist.
- Help them stay active every day. Activities that improve strength and balance, done at least twice a week, help too. Our free sheet of simple exercises is at mobilephysiotherapist.co.uk/balance-exercises.

If they fall

- Keep them comfortable and warm.
- If they can get up, help them carefully. Do not try to lift them yourself.
- Call 999 if they cannot get up, or they may have hurt their head, neck, back or hip.
- Call NHS 111 if they may be in pain, hurt or unwell.

Tell their GP about any fall, even if they were not hurt.

Medicines

- Give medicines at the right time of day. Check whether each one should be taken with food or between meals.
- A pharmacist may be able to give you a pill box with a section for each time of day.
- If they take several medicines, their GP surgery may offer a free review with a pharmacist. Try to go with them, if they would like you there.
- Keep all medicines in one place, ideally locked away. Order repeat prescriptions in good time.
- Never give a double dose to make up for a missed one. Check with a pharmacist before giving a medicine you have bought.

- Never give medicine without their agreement. Check with their doctor or pharmacist before you crush tablets.

Plan for an emergency

If you were ill, or could not get to them, who would step in? Make a plan now, while things are calm.

- Ask a relative, friend or neighbour who could help at short notice. Make sure they have a key or the key safe code, and know what care is needed.
- Write down the care they need, with their medicines and any dos and don'ts. Keep it somewhere easy to find, and tell people where it is.
- Look at the plan again now and then, and keep it up to date.
- Some areas have a carers emergency card scheme. Ask your local carers service.

Local help in Oxfordshire

These services are for people who live in Oxfordshire. This includes Oxford, Banbury, Bicester, Witney, Abingdon, Didcot, Wantage, Wallingford, Thame and Henley-on-Thames. Oxfordshire County Council runs adult social care for the whole county.

Help for carers. Carers Oxfordshire is a free service for adults who look after someone living in Oxfordshire. It gives advice and support, and can help with a carer's assessment. There is no charge for a carer's assessment. The CarersLine is open Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm. You can leave a message at other times. 01235 424715 · carersoxfordshire.org.uk

Oxfordshire County Council adult social care. Call 01865 519800, Monday to Thursday 8.30am to 5pm, Friday 8.30am to 4pm. You can also ask for an assessment with the online form. Out of hours, for emergencies that cannot wait, call the Emergency Duty Team on 0800 833 408. oxfordshire.gov.uk/adult-social-care

Equipment. An occupational therapist can visit you at home to look at what would help. This can be small things, like a walking aid or a second stair rail. If you are eligible, they may be able to provide equipment. There are also equipment clinics around the county. Ask adult social care on 01865 519800. oxfordshire.gov.uk/homeassessment

Falls. If you have had a fall, or feel unsteady, tell your GP. Age UK Oxfordshire runs Stay Strong and Steady, a free first course for people at risk of falling or who have had a fall. It also runs strength and balance classes. The first class is a free taster. After that there is a charge. 01235 849 403

Personal alarms. A personal alarm is worn on your wrist or round your neck. You press it to get help. Some also call for help if you fall. The council's assistive technology team gives free advice on alarms and other gadgets. You can book online. You can also buy an alarm yourself. If the council arranges one for you, you may be asked to pay towards it. oxfordshire.gov.uk/assistivetechnology
